The patrons of the Pavilion were accorded a real treat last night by the Grotella, Hughes Co. The act is entitled, "The Troubles of Farmer Bubbles," and is of the refreshing kind filled with good clean wholesome comedy situations that were thoroughly appreciated by the audience. The feature of the act is a little child with a grand opera voice; after singing her last song she received a tremendous ovation. In fact, the pictures had to be stopped and she was forced to respond to a curtain call. The act will no doubt draw packed houses during its stay here.
